

WHAT IS HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS WASTE?

HHW includes products used in and around the home that are flammable, corrosive, reactive or toxic.

WHY SHOULD I DISPOSE OF HHW SEPARATE FROM MY REGULAR HOUSEHOLD TRASH?

HHW can potentially cause a safety problem if various household chemicals become mixed when disposed with the regular trash. By disposing of HHW separately it will be properly handled and packaged to minimize exposure to potentially harmful chemicals and will also decrease the likelihood that these chemicals will enter the environment.

WHERE CAN I DISPOSE OF AUTOMOTIVE FLUIDS OR KEROSENE?

Used motor oil, diesel fuel, kerosene, and anti-freeze can be taken to the recycling centers at the I-95 Landfill Complex, 9850 Furnace Road in Lorton and the I-66 Transfer Station Complex, 4618 West Ox Road in Fairfax any day of the week.

WHERE CAN I DISPOSE OF AUTOMOBILE BATTERIES?

Used batteries can be traded in when purchasing a new battery. Additionally, all lead acid batteries may be taken to the recycling centers at the I-95 Landfill, 9850 Furnace Road in Lorton and the I-66 Transfer Station, 4618 West Ox Road in Fairfax any day of the week.

WHAT SHOULD I DO WITH LATEX PAINT?

Latex paint is not considered a hazardous waste. Before disposing of it, try to find someone who can use it - such as a neighbor, theater group or church. If you must dispose of it, take the lid off the can, place it in a well-ventilated location or pour paint onto newspaper, let the paint dry, then throw away the dried paint with your regular garbage. Mixing kitty litter into the paint accelerates drying.

WHAT ABOUT BUSINESS HAZARDOUS WASTE?

A contractor accepts hazardous waste from Conditionally Exempt Small Quantity Generators three times a year at the I-66 Transfer Station Complex. Call (703) 324-5230 for more information on upcoming collection days. Business Waste may also be disposed of by a hazardous waste collection vendor. Visit our web site listed below for a list of vendors.
